

Wikileaks has revealed once again the communal face of the Congress. The heir-apparent of the Congress has told the American ambassador that he is more concerned about Hindu organizations than Jihadi terror. Prior to this, he had made the puerile comparison of Hindu organizations with SIMI. A few days ago, wikileaks made this revelation that Congress indulges in communal politics. In this vein, Congress had compelled Antula to make an allegation that Karkare was killed by Hindu organizations. Another Congress leader has now come up with the allegation that he had a conversation with Karkare in which he had talked about danger to his life Hindu organizations. The Home Minister of Maharashtra has specifically denied having any records of this talk between Digvijay and Karkare. Prior to this, Karkare's wife and the head of the Mumbai carnage investigations had denied any such conversation. Despite this, someone or the other from the Congress is always up to some sort of propaganda against the Hindu organizations. They are not at all worried that their irresponsible behavior ends up encouraging the terrorists, gives fodder to Pakistan, the investigative agencies' work gets affected and India becomes the laughing stock of the world. Till now, it seemed that whatever these Congressmen were doing was inadvertent, but now there seems to be a deliberate attempt to help the terrorists. Congress had partitioned India only for the hunger of power, they are going to do it once again, this time merely for a handful of Muslim votes.

They are trying to instill a fear of the Hindu organization in the minds of the Muslim by deliberately creating false images of us and in doing this, they are committing sins galore. They are acting as the spokesperson of these terror organizations by indulging in such propaganda. Because of this, a part of the Muslim society could now leave the mainstream as they are getting waylaid by the false propaganda. Can these sins of the Congress be washed? We challenge them to fight us at the ideological level if they are really serious about proving their point, which will be more civilized. We will bring out the truth, we challenge them to fight us on any platform. Let the society, then decide for itself. In their false barrage against us, let them not sacrifice the good of the country. If there is any sane voice left in the congress, we call upon him to offer his good advice to his Congressmen. We request them not to take the country to the point of no return from where it will be difficult to make a comeback.

As far as Rahul Gandhi is concerned, he is a naive young man. He has no understanding of either India's history or its problems. He is not a grassroots-level leader. He has become a lilliput in the hands of a coterie which is using him to advance their agenda, Rahul, himself thinks of it as his treasure-trove. He does not even have the intellect to understand whether once should discuss India's internal matters with foreign dignitaries. He has no understanding of the kind of loss his statements can cause to the nation, perhaps, he does not even care.
